June 17, 2019

Brooks Parents and Students,

It's hard to believe that Friday June 21, 2019 is the last day of regular classes. I want to take this opportunity to wish you all the best as you make the final push for your current courses. I want to remind you that many of your final projects or assessments will likely all be due around the same time. As you can imagine, this is going to cause a bit of stress, but is certainly a good motivator to get things done. What everyone needs to be aware of is things don't often go as we had planned. I'm acutely aware and appreciative of the fact that most of my life lessons have come from overcoming obstacles and my ability to pick myself up after a loss or failure.

Friday June 21, 2019 during "D" Block our plan is to hand out next year's timetables to all returning students to Brooks. This will give you a chance to plan ahead.

So what about the week of the 24th?

In general, there are no regularly scheduled classes during the last week. If one of your teacher requests you to come in to complete outstanding classwork, assessments, or projects then you will report directly to them. This will be especially true on the Monday the 24th and Tuesday the 25th. Otherwise students are home for next week.

On Wednesday the 26th we will be hosting our 2 awards ceremonies. At 10:30am is our Grade 8-11 awards and starting at 1:30pm is our Senior Awards and Scholarships (followed by a Donor's Reception).

Friday June 28th report cards will be posted to the portal after 12:00 noon.

Yours truly,

Bill Rounis
Brooks Principal
